LADY ASTOR IS ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT

(By Associated Press)
Plymouth, England, Nov. 28.—Lady Astor, American born wife of Viscount Astor, was elected to Parliament from the Sutton Division at Plymouth in the by-election of November 15th. The result was announced after a long and hotly contested campaign. The vote stood Lady Astor, unionist, 14,195; W. G. C. Fisher, 12,021; Isaac Foot, liberal, 11,089. Lady Astor will take her seat on Monday next. Scores of prominent members of Parliament, anticipating the results have requested that they allow them to be her sponsors. A new member is always escorted in the House of Commons by two sponsors.

EXTREME COLD MAY CAUSE MUCH SUFFERING

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Nov. 28.—Snow ranging in depth from two feet to an inch today covered most of the country between the Mississippi River and the Sierra Nevada mountains and from Canada to Northern Texas with low temperature prevailing through the area. South of the snow belt heavy rain fell in the big lands. Suffering in many places in the Central and Southwest was in prospect because of the extreme cold and the limited supply of fuel resulting from the coal strike. Lander, Wyoming was the coldest place in the country according to reports. The temperature there was 20 degrees below zero.

KANSAS CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS TO DIG COAL

(By Associated Press)
Topeka, Kansas, Nov. 28.—Kansas today began the calling of volunteers to dig coal and according to state officials, the appeal of Governor Allen was being readily answered. The Governor, estimated about 400 men had been accepted for service at the four recruiting offices established in the mining district. From Lawrence came word that students of the University of Kansas had made arrangements to enter the mines and that it was expected credit in their University work would be given those who joined the forces of coal diggers.

UNION SERVICE ON THANKSGIVING

A good sized congregation attended the union Thanksgiving service on Thursday morning at the Advent Christian church. The exercises opened with a selection by the choir, followed by the invocation by Rev. Dr. E. A. Dillingham. The scripture was read by Rev. Dr. Thayer. Rev. Dr. Elmer F. Newell offered prayer and the Governor's Thanksgiving proclamation was read by Rev. Alfred Gooding. Rev. F. A. Banks, pastor of the Advent church, preached an able Thanksgiving sermon, his topic being: "The Fundamentals Necessary in These Days," bringing out the point that only the gospel could meet the demands of the ages.

Thanksgiving services were also held at St. John's and Christ church on the holiday morning.

The Organized Charities remembered a number of shut-ins with Thanksgiving dinners.

RIVAL MEXICAN FORCES IN CLASH

(By Associated Press)
San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 28.—Reports were received here today from the border to the effect that fighting had broken out in Mexico City between the Obregon and Carranza forces. Carranza is reported to have fled to Queretaro. General Pablo Gonzalez is reported to be leading the Carranza troops.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Reports that Carranza and Obregon forces in Mexico City had clashed were received with no surprise in official Washington. It was said, however, that if they were true, the break had come a little earlier than expected.

WEDDED IN KITTERY

The marriage of Miss Chestnut Greenleaf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Greenleaf of Government street, Kittery, and Emil Ostergard, also of Kittery, occurred last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. J. Frank Jenner officiating.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 28.—Seizure of bituminous coal mines where the owners do not show a disposition to co-operate in increasing production and use of troops to protect all miners who desire to work has been decided upon by the government in an effort to end the bituminous coal strike. It was stated today officially, in mines seized by the government the fourteen per cent wage advance agreed upon by the Cabinet will be put into immediate effect it was said. These plans of the government were agreed upon by the Cabinet last Wednesday. Officials said, so as to meet the situation resulting from a refusal of the operators or miners, or both, to agree to the government's wage increase proposal. Cabinet officers expected many mine owners to put into effect voluntarily the fourteen per cent wage increase. Whether the mines of those refusing to do so would be seized was not clear but it was said that there was no general plan for government control if each individual case would be decided on its merits.

Mines taken over by the government will be operated by the Fuel Administration but details as to the position of the owners were not disclosed. While various agents were prepared to carry out the government's program, Fuel Administrator Carlisle reaffirmed in even more emphatic terms his position that profiteering on the part of either labor or capital will not be tolerated. "The public cannot and will not be asked to bear the increased burden of higher prices of the coal nor of the payment of a large sum of money to any special class of workers," he said.

CRITICIZES MR. HOWE'S ADMINISTRATION

(By Associated Press)
New York, Nov. 28.—The testimony of Byron H. Uhl acting immigration commissioner before the House committee on Immigration investigating conditions at Ellis Island was interrupted today by Frederick C. Howe, former commissioner, who accused Mr. Uhl of not telling the truth. The interruption came after Mr. Uhl had identified an order dated April 24th stopping the circulation of radical literature at the island. The order was signed with Mr. Howe's name but Mr. Uhl testified that he dictated the letter and that a notation in the corner showed that it was not received by the immigration inspectors until June 4th. "Do you mean to say," interrupted Mr.

Howe, "that I held up this letter?" "The chief of the division concerned did not receive it until the time indicated," replied Mr. Uhl. Mr. Howe then asked whether Mr. Uhl ever remembered his holding up letters more than 24 hours, whereupon Mr. Uhl answered: "You held up this one, Commissioner." "That isn't the truth," declared Mr. Howe.

The colloquy was ended by Representative Baker of California who informed Mr. Howe that he would not be permitted "to do that sort of thing before the committee." Replying to a question of Representative Baker, Mr. Uhl declared that it was the opinion of all the employees at the island that the conduct of Mr. Howe's administration was improper.

BROTHERS CAPTAIN RIVAL TEAMS

A dispatch from Lincoln, Neb., states that Harry J. Robertson, brilliant center of the Syracuse University football eleven was unanimously elected captain of the 1920 team after the conclusion of the Nebraska game on Thanksgiving day. His brother, Jim Robertson, the star Dartmouth half-back, has also been elected to lead the Big Green team for next season. Further interest in 1920 football will be manifest because it has been announced that Syracuse and Dartmouth will oppose each other next fall.

Both brothers have many friends in this city where they played baseball on the Atlantic team the past two summers.

The absent sons and daughters were home in large numbers for the Thanksgiving observance.

GERMANY WILL NOT COMPLY WITH DEMAND

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, Nov. 28.—It is stated in authoritative quarters here that Germany will not comply to the demand of the Entente for 100,000 tons of docks, dredges and tugs as an offset to the German warships sunk at Scapa Flow. It was indicated that Germany would stand put on her proposition to refer the dispute to the Hague Tribunal. It is declared that Germany should not be held responsible for the act of the marine forces at Scapa Flow.

YORK COUNTY FISHERMEN ARE READY FOR A STIFF FIGHT

Lobster fishermen are showing great interest in the hearings to be held at the several places along York County coast before the Commission of Sea and Shore Fisheries to determine whether or not that body shall declare a closed season on lobsters within the waters commencing at a point in Cape Porpoise harbor and extending to the southeast point of Cape Elizabeth. In other words whether the commission shall declare a closed time on lobsters within the entire coast line of York county and a part of Cumberland county. The law gives the commission of sea and shore fisheries authority to declare a closed time on lobsters within any of the waters within its jurisdiction, after a public hearing legally held, decides that such action will be for the welfare of the state, and the best interests of the lobster fisheries.

The supposed aim of the law is to prevent the killing of "small" lobsters. There is probably no lobster fisherman in York county who believes this law to be just or necessary and there is not one doing business in the waters between Cape Porpoise and Cape Elizabeth who is not bitterly opposed to any such action by the commission as would result in closing all the waters between the two Capes and lobster fishing.

OLD TIME PITCHERS DID TRICKS WITH BALL LIKE MODERN TWIRLERS

Nowadays' doctoring, baseballs with leather, all of mustard, emery, paraffin and other stuff is looked upon as a high crime by men, persons connected with our national game, but this stuff is much compared with what they used to do in the olden days. Write Tom Swapp in the Cincinnati Post.

Frank Danforth and Cal McVay were swamping yards the other day and telling some of the tricks employed back in the seventies.

"George Bradley who pitched form team could do all sorts of tricks, will a soft ball," said Danforth, "no I used to take a ball before the game, steam it up in a stocking and squeeze it in a vice until it was soft."

"Bradley then could sink his finger into it, get a firm grip and throw all sorts of curves, including a raised ball."

"We could do a ball that was in these days because one ball usually lasted a whole game. When it was fouled into the crowd it was returned."

"Right," said McVay. "And when a hard ball was substituted for the soft one in 1877 it spoiled Bradley's team as a pitcher. I fought against the change in the ball, telling William Hulbert, president of the Chicago club, for whom both Bradley and I played at the time that it would ruin Bradley's skill."

"But we've got to get more runs," Hulbert insisted. "Three 2 to 0 and 1 to 0 games was no winning deal," said the patrons of the game. They want more runs and the only way to get them is to use a harder and livelier ball."

The new ball brought more runs, not only for us but for the other teams, and our winning streak of 15 straight games was knocked higher than a kite because Bradley couldn't handle the ball."

"I was catching for Chicago at the time the balls were changed, and I had been catching Bradley bare-handed without even getting my hands stung."

"The first day of the new ball I had to quit catching in the sixth inning my hands were so badly bruised it was impossible for me to catch any longer, even though by that time the ball had been pounded so much it was getting soft."

A COZY LIVING ROOM

One of the most beautiful living rooms the writer has ever seen was a bright, sunshiny one with floor covered with a neutral gray flax carpet over which were scattered three handsome rugs. The walls were in plain old blue, the woodwork white. The dull bright fireplace, the white ornament and the built in book shelves, were quite noticeable features in the room and decidedly helped the colonial furniture.

There was a mahogany gateleg table in the center of the room, a large arm chair and a wall chair with a rush seat.

A huge wing armchair upholstered in rose and blue chintz was drawn up to the room.

The chintz was repeated in the side drapes at the windows. And the beauty of it is that a room like this is within the reach of almost any one.

THANKSGIVING DAY WELL OBSERVED

Usual Good Cheer Despite Mean Weather Conditions---Turkey Has a Prominent Part in the Celebration

A northeast storm, which held up for a time on Thursday, severely interfered with the Thanksgiving observances in the opening, but did not take away from the real spirit of the day, the family reunions and the holiday cheer.

The northeast, which was accompanied by a heavy fall of rain all night and well into the early morning hours, turned to snow at the end and there was a white mantle on the ground and the trees were ice-covered. The rain stopped but the weather was threatening and there was a cold, strong wind. It was mean weather for outdoor sports and very little was attempted other than the turkey shoot at the Country Club and the football game at the play grounds in the afternoon.

The family gatherings and reunions where is always found the real spirit of Thanksgiving were in no way interfered with and the cheer shade was as bright as the weather was gloomy outside.

The usual union Thanksgiving day services of the churches was held at the Advent church, Rev. Mr. Banks, the pastor, preaching the sermon and being assisted in the service by the clergy of the other churches.

The Salvation Army, regardless of the high cost of living, the Salvation Army carried out its annual Thanksgiving mission of mercy again this year and in this city markets were given out which contained food enough to feed three hundred people.

If anyone little realizes the need of poor people in this city he would soon get a different idea had he visited the families as did Captain Farrar of the Salvation Army when giving out the tickets for the holiday feast. The recipients were either widows with families or aged people, infirm or ill. One basket was given to a widow with six children; another to a widow with six and one being laid up at home, the victim of an accident a short time ago. It was a pathetic sight to see some of the infirm people struggling slowly out of the Salvation Army building on State street through the rain to their homes carrying the loaded baskets, yet all were so grateful and the eyes of some filled with tears as they received their holiday provisions. Captain and Mrs. Farrar and members of the Salvation Army worked untiringly to prepare the donations and never before were such liberal baskets sent out by this organization in this city. Captain Farrar regretted that he had no means of conveyance at his disposal to carry around the baskets, but, no doubt, there were local people who had cars who would have donated their use for this opportunity of real service had they known of the need.

There were a good number of donations of articles given by local people for the dinners. The Loyal Order of Moose gave the sum of fifty dollars, another generous donation was twenty bushels of apples from Mr. Sweet of Kittery and from his sister twenty pounds of candy and a five pound box of chocolates. Captain Farrar has been located here only a little more than a week and the collection baskets were out on the street but a few days. With rain came that time the cash donations went far below what was needed to pay for the dinners and any added contributions given now would be most acceptable.

Captain Farrar said he was much surprised to find so large a number of needy families in this city, but he had his heart in the work and did his best to respond to all calls for help.

Captain Farrar comes here from headquarters highly recommended and undoubtedly will accomplish much here in the Salvation Army work.

The war work of the Salvation Army will never be forgotten and everywhere there is now increased interest in this organization. Captain P. M. Sulzer, who had charge of the dinner and baskets given out by the Salvation Army in Boston for Thanksgiving, stated that he had been greatly surprised by the large number of prominent and wealthy people of Boston who offered their services and time to assist in carrying out the work. A good number of volunteer automobiles delivered the one thousand basket dinners in Boston, and a corps of students from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology prepared the hall at the People's Palace for the holiday feast served to nearly 3000 needy people, this being a chicken dinner with all the fixings.

At the County Jail Deputy Sheriff Wilbur H. Shaw saw that the inmates of the jail enjoyed a real Thanksgiving feast. The holiday dinner included chicken, potatoes, squash, apple and mince pies and coffee and all much appreciated it.

At Wentworth Home The inmates of the Wentworth Home for Chronic Invalids on Pleasant street were served a holiday dinner, the cash for the same being the gift of the employees of the outside machine shop, No. 52 at the navy yard. A number of the patients had callers in the afternoon.

At Children's Home Thanksgiving was pleasantly passed by the little folks of the Chase Home for Children on Lafayette road. There are 19 inmates in this institution and some passed the day with parents or friends, but the others who remained at the home enjoyed the holiday to the fullest extent.

A bounteous holiday dinner was served at noon, roast turkey, vegetables, celery, fruit and various dainties made up the holiday feast. In the afternoon there were numerous visitors and the matron, Miss Tuttle, and assistant devoted much time to the children, planning games for them and left nothing undone to add to their holiday happiness. The home was liberally remembered with donations for the holiday and the matron feels most grateful for the interest shown by the public.

At the Forts Thanksgiving day for the enlisted men of the army is always a feature event, and as is the custom, as many men at the forts as could reach their homes were given time off to do so, and for those who remained, a fine bill-of-fare with the turkey as the chief setting was served at noon. During the afternoon, and evening there were entertainments.

At the Navy Yard At the navy yard all of the ships made a feature of the day for those who were left on board, for the commanding officers had been generous with holiday leaves. Turkey with all of the fixings and in some cases, fixings which would rival the menu of any first class hotel were served. Work was out to a minimum and entertainment provided for the afternoon and evening. The spirit was true at the marine barracks, and at the naval hospital while special care was taken to make the wounded men and those under treatment feel the holiday spirit. At the naval prison the usual elaborate program and entertainment was provided for the prisoners.

At the Naval Prison The men at the naval prison were given real holiday cheer on Thanksgiving day and they much appreciated it. At noon a roast turkey dinner with vegetables was served and left cream, pies and cake for dessert. The cake was all home made and furnished by women of Portsmouth and a number from Kittery. A good sized square was placed in front of each man's plate and the kindness of the donors was favorably commented upon by the recipients. In the afternoon the club enjoyed a foot ball game and other outdoor recreations.

At the Portsmouth Hospital Thanksgiving passed quietly at the Portsmouth Hospital. There are now 35 patients at this institution and a roast turkey dinner with all the fixings, fruit and dainties was served at noon to those able to enjoy it. Others were served delicacies in their rooms. A number of the patients received visitors during the day.

At the Naval Hospital Thanksgiving day brought cheer to the patients at the Naval Hospital. A holiday dinner was served for all who could enjoy it. One hundred home made sauce pies were donated by the local Methodist society and by the W. C. T. U. 50 being given by each society, through Miss Alice Smith, deaconess of the Methodist church and in charge of local state work of the Methodist church and W. C. T. U. These societies also furnished several hundred home made cookies to the men at the Marine Barracks and the kindness was much appreciated.

DOESN'T PAY A BOXER TO TRY PLEASING FANS

Those chaps who follow the boxing game, the fellows who like to sling a few clinkers on a boxer they think will win in a contest, often holler their heads off after losing a bet. There isn't one of them can figure why the man he had wagered on can second by the popular decision route.

They are "one way" fellows, which means that they can see it any other way than that they and the man who was carrying their dough were robbed of the decision. So much for prejudice. That's where the most of them are all wrong, for there are plenty of things that the fans don't know that have a great deal to do with whether a fighter wins or loses when a contest goes the limit—especially in a state where decision bouts are not legal. Has it ever occurred to a fan when making a bet on a boxing contest that "some scrappers can fight better for themselves than for the crowd?"

Some question, eh? But it means a whole lot. Take a boxer for example who has reached the top-notch ranks of his class. Freddie Welsh, former lightweight champion, is an example that can be used very nicely in this connection. No one in the world will dispute the fact that Welsh was one of the wonderful performers of the lightweight division. If he hadn't been, he never would have reached the heights he attained, for a "punch" never held a little in pugilism.

Freddie Welsh, one of the dearest and cleverest fellows who ever pulled on a padded mitt, was one of the fellows who never would have reached the top of his punching ability. Fred couldn't hit hard enough to knock out an opponent (see record), but if anyone asked him why he couldn't hit hard that question would bring forth an emphatic denial. If Freddie knew he wasn't a puncher, no one ever heard him admit it.

Welsh was one of the most active champions we ever had after he took the "lute" away from Willie Ritchie. It was his chance to clean up a lot of money and naturally he was out to do that and nothing else. He had to play safe, and playing safe meant the clever stuff plans the punching. He got away with it nicely as far as winning from opponents was concerned but the fans who put at the ring sides in the various fights in which he performed, made it huge that apparent that Freddie's performance was far from pleasing.

Once when Welsh went west to box in Milwaukee, he arrived in Chicago for a couple of days' training. He wasn't in a very happy mood when he learned for he had fought a couple of evenings before in an eastern city and had been panned to a frazzle, not only by the fans but by the newspapers, for playing the safety first instead of fighting.

The criticism had worked him up to the single where he was mad enough to fight a heavyweight, and when he started the Milwaukee bout he quickly became so mad that he was going to fight for the crowd and not for Freddie Welsh. He went ten rounds that night with an opponent of inferior caliber and was badly beaten. If being almost unanimous in the newspapers that Welsh had been the loser. That's what it cost Freddie to "fight for the crowd."

Will the Tigers and the Creek A. C. go to it again?

OLD PLEASURE CRAFT IS DISMANTLED

The complete dismantling of the old steam-wheel steamer Merrimack, just completed at Newburyport, removes one of the familiar scenes of navigation on the Merrimack river. It marks the close of more than a half century of excursion steamer patronage by residents of the Merrimack Valley, as well as thousands of vacationists from more distant points.

With the building of many trolley lines, connecting Haverhill, Lowell, Lawrence and the New Hampshire cities with the seashore resorts, the excursion boat, which had long been popular, noted a big dropping off in patronage. A decade or so ago the boat made its farewell trip from Haverhill to the sea and has since been beached at Newburyport, where countless other craft of all descriptions have slowly gone to pieces.

When first placed in commission on the river, a quarter of a century ago, the Merrimack was the largest steamboat plying on its waters and the trip through "Whittier-land" was very popular. Many distinguished poets, authors and literary celebrities were included among its passengers, and there was much interest evinced in the many land marks passed in the journey. Those included the old covered bridge at East Haverhill; Amesbury, where Whittier's younger years were passed; Chain Bridge, the oldest suspension bridge in the world, and Newburyport.

From the upper deck of the steamer one could see the old home of Garrison and the spire of the old Presbyterian church, in the crypt of which lie the bones of the illustrious preacher, George Whitefield. The home of "Lord" Timothy Dexter, another of Newburyport's illustrious sons, could also be seen; also the clam shanties at "Jop-pie" and "Ben" Butler's Toothpick," which guards the harbor.

During all these years the old steam boat plied up and down the river uneventfully, only one mishap occurring in all that period. Once at low water she struck the boulder near Rocks Bridge and partially sank, the passengers being taken off in safety in small boats.

For many years pupils of the Harvard Summer School annually made the trip from Haverhill to the sea, this practice being continued as long as the Merrimack was in commission.

Since she was beached at Newburyport, time and the elements have wrought havoc with her hull and machinery and finally all hopes of putting her again into commission were abandoned.

Several hunters girded their souls, thinking, too, and soon her ribs were missing.

The metal was scrapped and brought a considerable figure, while the woodwork was used for fuel.

Captain entering Newburyport harbor miss her familiar presence, an another chapter of the old seaport town's history fades into a memory.

MISS BRADY AWARDED DECORATION

Podgoritz, Nov. 26.—The first American nurse to contract typhus in Montenegro has been awarded her second decoration by the Serbian government. She is Miss Berenice Brady of Springfield, Ill. She already wears the ribbon of the Serbian Order of Merit. Now she can add to that beautiful silver and crimson enamel medal of the first Order of the Serbian Red Cross.

Miss Brady was assigned to work in the Cettinje orphanage, in the midst of her busiest week she was stricken with typhus. She recovered and was sent home as an invalid.

HALL OF FAME INAUGURATED FOR TREES

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 26.—A "Hall of Fame for Trees" has been inaugurated by the American Forestry association for the recognition of famous trees and the location of the largest shade tree in the United States.

An elm at Huntington, Ind., long has been regarded as the largest shade tree in the country. This claim, of course, excludes the redwoods of California. Now comes Daniel Kennedy of Crawfordsville, Ind., with a picture of a tree on his property and the suggestion that it is larger than the tree at Huntington. This tree has a spread of 99 feet while the Huntington elm has a spread of only 75 feet. A tree at Framingham, Mass., also makes claim to being the largest.

Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association says:

"We want a complete list of famous trees now. There is the Liberty tree on the campus of St. John's college at Annapolis under which a treaty with the Indians was signed in 1652. The experts tell us this tree is close to 800 years old. We all know of the William Penn treaty tree beneath which Washington took command of the Continental army. At Oberlin, O., is the elm on the corner of the campus under which was the first log house in which Oberlin college was founded. The American Forestry Association has listed famous trees but it wants the list complete. If there is a famous tree in your town the association wants to know about it."

REVIVAL IN SILVER MINING

(By Associated Press)

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 25.—A big revival in the silver mining industry is in progress in Bolivia according to Alberto Pacheco, Bolivian consul here. During the war silver mining was replaced by tin and tungsten, thousands of tons of which were sold to Bolivia to the allies. The low price of silver during this period caused many of the silver mines to be abandoned, but with the return of a demand for silver bullion and consequent high prices, the silver industry is picking up something of its ancient aspect as the leading industrial activity of the South American Republic.

Figures show that export of the precious metal from Bolivia is now in the vicinity of 30,000 pounds a year valued at $2,300,000. The famous Potosi mine which has been in continuous operation for almost 400 years and has given us silver valued at billions of dollars, now is being worked at full capacity, according to the consular advice.

AMERICAN GOODS ARE IN GREAT DEMAND

Bucharest, Nov. 26.—American manufactured goods are in demand in Rumania. The stores in Bucharest are doing almost as great a business as in pre-war days. France has been sending large quantities of goods into the country, particularly light wearing apparel, silk stockings, toilet soaps and cosmetics.

Prices still are abnormally high. One sees American shoes in the shop windows at the normal equivalent of $28 a pair. Any article stamped "American" has a ready sale. Rumanians are keen for anything from the United States, whether it be food, articles of wear or manufactured objects.

"Why doesn't America send more goods here?" the business man constantly asks. "There is a wonderful field in Rumania for American commerce. We would rather trade with the United States than any other country. We need your manufactured products, your automobiles, farm implements, gas engines, lathes, sewing machines, cash registers, typewriters."

Canada is preparing to send its products to Rumania. The Canadian government, following its course in Greece and Serbia, has lent Rumania fifty million dollars to pay for these goods.

ALICE BRADY IN "FOREVER AFTER"

Boston will welcome Alice Brady's return to the spoken stage at the Plymouth Theatre next Monday evening (November 17), when this noted artist of both stage and screen opens an engagement of "Forever After." Owen Davis' play dealing with the love and faith of youth, and their triumph over all obstacles. The event is one of the leading ones of Boston's present theatrical season, for it will mark Miss Brady's first appearance here since her return to the legitimate stage, and will also mark the first showing of one of the most successful American plays of recent years, which attained the wonderful record of 314 performances in New York.

No character hitherto portrayed by the talented daughter of William A. Brady has given her delightful personality and remarkable ability the latitude for expression that the role of Jenny, the little Vermont heroine of the Davis drama, gives her. It is a role to which by temperament, personality and ability she is particularly adapted. Although long ago she won laurels on the spoken stage, and more recently, through the medium of the films, has become known from coast to coast as one of the hopes of the American drama, it is her characterization of Jenny, in this play, which has placed her firmly in the front rank of living players.

"Forever After" is an unusual play with a universal appeal, and it is no wonder that it speedily ingratiated itself with Broadway theatregoers and held their admiration and steady patronage for so phenomenally long a period. This idyll of two childhood sweethearts is at once homely, human and wholesome. It opens in a wilderness across the sea, and its rapidly shifting scenes take the audience to a picturesque garden, in a small Vermont township, and to the Harvard training quarters on the eve of the Yale-Harvard race. The climax provides Miss Brady with a poignantly moving scene in which she demonstrates her great gift as an emotional actress.

Supporting the star is the same cast which supported her during the long New York engagement, including Conrad Nagel, John Warner, Mrs. Rose Whytal, Frank Hatch, Isabel Lanon, Darling Navel, Frederic Hahatt, B. K. Fried, Virginia Ruppert, Gustave Roland and Charles Lark.

RESTRICT EXPORT OF FAT CATTLE

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, Nov. 26.—The government has issued an order restricting the export of fat cattle from Ireland to the British markets to 9500 beasts per week. Last year the average number exported from Ireland was 12,300 and in the last two months of the year the average rose to 14,000 a week.

The restrictive order is slated to have been issued because "urgent representations have been made to the food controllers by stockholders in England. There is no restriction on the import into England of foreign meat. An 85 per cent of Irish cattle go to the British markets. Irish farmers complain of the restriction now made on their product."

PROFESSIONAL SALARIED MAN POORLY PAID

London, Nov. 25.—"The man in the black coat," as the professional salaried man is designated by promoters of the organization, is to have a federation designed to insure him increased income and other benefits which other workers have gained through their trade unions. A meeting was held here the other day to organize salaried men.

Industrial workers have received wage increases amounting to 130 or 140 percent during the war while the cost of living during that time has been increased 125 percent, according to organizers of the Professional Workers' Federation, sponsoring the new union. But for the man on a moderate salary, it is contended, there has been no proportionate salary rise. Increases for this class of worker has averaged less than thirty percent, for the five year period.

Drinking a Glass of Hot Water is a Splendid Habit

Cleanse and sweeten the system each morning and wash away poisons, stale matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we awoke, splitting headache, stuffy nose, a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, larva bugs, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; this cleansing, sweetening and purifying tonic kills abnormal flora before eating more food.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a fine appetite for breakfast. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is enough to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism an enthusiast on internal sanitation.

SUPPLIES FOR POLANDERS

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Nov. 27.—Clothing for babies made by American women in all parts of the United States filled an entire car in a large train load of Red Cross relief supplies which recently left Paris for Poland. Other important items which made up the fifty car relief special were refugee clothes and hospital garments foodstuffs, medicines, hospital supplies and farm machinery.

Aid to orphanages and children's homes is an ever-increasing activity of the Americans in Poland. At many points along the old Russo-German front, east of the river Bug, where the country was swept bare of everything, they have furnished equipment, food and clothing to help the Poles establish orphan's homes, to care for the lost children who are consistently drifting across the border with refugees returning from Russia.

Extant orphanages which have been found sadly in need of food and clothing to care for their charges have received condensed milk and other food supplies, and children's garments and dress material. In some districts the Americans have hired carpenters, paying them with flour to make little beds, benches and tables for children's homes that had been stripped by the war.

In other places local sewing circles have been started, making over badly worn garments that have been collected in the United States, into children's clothing. Odds and ends of material found in sales of refugee clothing have been similarly used for the children.

The burden which formed the holes themselves is made over into bed-sacks for the children's beds.

CONFESS PLOT TO RESTORE CONSTANTINE TO THRONE

Man Arrested for Attempt to Assassinate Venezuela and Overthrow his Government

Athens, Nov. 26.—Police arrested following discovery of a conspiracy to assassinate Premier Venizelos, overthrow the present regime and establish King Constantine on the throne have made full confessions according to the authorities. They were formerly officers under King Constantine. It is said, they will be tried before court-martial.

GEORGE WASHINGTON ENDS LIFE AS TROOPSHIP

New York, Nov. 26.—Making her last voyage as a United States naval transport, the George Washington docked here today after having taken King Albert of the Belgians and his party back to Europe from Newport News. Returning on the ship which has carried President Wilson on his journeys overseas was Brockenridge Long, third

HOSPITAL IS BEING ENLARGED

(By Associated Press)

Podgoritz, Nov. 26.—A gift of $20,000 made by the Junior Red Cross of America for hospital and educational work in Montenegro, is being utilized here.

The Podgoritz hospital of 70 beds, established some months ago by the American Red Cross, and which has been daily turning away enough patients to fill 500 beds, is being enlarged. Two additional wards made of barracks and set in the beautiful grounds of Prince Mirko's palace are being added to the hospital. A section of the hospital will be devoted especially to the treatment of children.

ACCEPTED THE APOLOGY

Dublin, Nov. 26.—Nigel Baring, Master of the Fox Hunt, having made some observations which were regarded as insulting the country's "motoring for political purposes," the stoppage of the local hunt was threatened. Mr. Baring wrote to the Limerick papers:

"I unreservedly withdraw any observations offensive to Irish national sentiment, and to the Committee of the Knocknongie and Herbertstown Hunt Club, and I apologize for such observations."

The Limerick Executive of Sinn Féin accepted the apology, and hunting was allowed to proceed.

PENZANCE HAS A BOY PREACHER

For Tom, Dick and Harry

Men folks are funny creatures. If you don't believe it ask any woman. She knows. And one of the funny things about them is that it is so hard to know what to give them at Christmas time.

Certain things no wise mother, wife, or sister ever selects at all. Other things they never choose but once.

And yet these same funny, fussy creatures love to get gifts, especially at Christmas when the spirit of loving thought is in the air.

Bring the problem of what to give these dear people to us. We have had one hundred and nineteen years to study their tastes, their comforts and their idiosyncrasies. We have many cases filled with things to please them; useful gifts such as safety razors, belt buckles and cuff links; pipes and cigarette or cigar cases for the smoker; studs and waistcoat sets for evening clothes; canes for long tramps or dress canes for afternoon calls and evening functions.

The sooner you can come in the more time we will be able to devote to you. A little later on the holiday rush will have fastened upon us.

Write for our booklet, "Gems and Jewels." You will find it interesting.

Community Service.

There is much unrest all over the world and the United States is not entirely immune from Bolshevism. What is needed to avert one of the most dreadful of all calamities is the Americanization of all foreign born within our borders and to rescue those fortunate enough to be born in this country from the slough of despond, to improve their surroundings and give them a more hopeful and cheerful view of the future. To impress upon the foreign born the necessity of being good citizens is one of the greatest objects of Community Service.

There is room in every community to rearm work in this direction and there seems no questioning the statement that Community Service is the best equipped organization to accomplish this tremendous task. It has the machinery and the leaders and it already has proved its worth in a number of cities. Neighborhood and community works are not new in this country, but there is a new promise of force through national organization in the nation-wide plans of Community Service.

Roosevelt said that "no man could be part American and part something else" and truer words were never uttered. The citizens of this country must be all American or nothing. The program of Community Service calls for a great movement to make thorough-going Americans of all of our foreign-born population. Americanization is the common term but higher and better citizenship are better words. Through various methods Community Service plans to instill into the alien born the ideals that will counteract unrest and place the disciple of unrest in the background.

Chinese Health.

It seems a little surprising to Americans that the Chinese should be conducting a health campaign to increase the population. Occidentals have had somewhat the feeling about China that Cousin Egbert of Red Cap had about Europe. The only thing he found the matter with Europe was the fact that there were so many foreigners there. Too many million Chinese has been the usual western objection to China.

The Chinese, naturally, cannot be blamed for taking a different view. They do not like the idea of having sixteen million people die every year out of 400,000,000. An article in the American Journal of Public Health tells of the campaign made by Dr. W. W. Peter, an American, in an effort to lower the mortality rate. Dolls and manikins are used freely to illustrate the undesirability of illness and the advantages of health. The Chinese have shown great interest in the lectures, and they are awakening to the fact that most of the disease and death are unnecessary and preventable.

The Chinese are no longer asleep. Progress is rapid in their land. It may not be long before they, in their turn, can tell the western peoples things of as great benefit as those they are now learning.

Encouragement for Alienism.

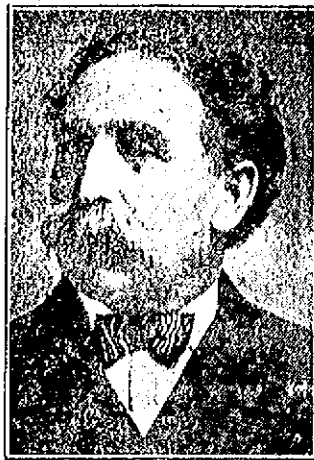

Along with the public approval given to the national House of Representatives for its action regarding Victor L. Berger there is a strong undercurrent of criticism. It is fine to have Americanism vindicated in Congress by a vote of 309 to one, but it is incomprehensible that the verdict should have been delayed for ten months, during all of which time Congress had access to the facts on which its final action was based.

The failure for so long to eject a fellow-member who stood convicted of violating the espionage act in time of war, and who was notorious for his anti-American utterances, certainly had much to do with fostering the growth of dangerous radicalism in the United States. It encouraged the Reds to think that they could ply their murderous propaganda undisturbed. If a congressman could "get away with it," so could they. It was a natural mistake, for which the country is now paying. It is well that Congress has turned seriously to making amends for its long vacillation.

Similar considerations apply to the people of Milwaukee. They returned Berger to Congress with full knowledge of his un-American combination of radicalism and Germanism. In so doing they played into the hands of the organized forces of disorder and revolution with which the nation is now grappling, and greatly encouraged their nefarious work.

Let Congress hereafter keep clean of alienism, and let communities in their public acts keep clean of it; then alienism will die a natural death.

THUMB-NAIL SKETCHES OF PERSONS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

MICHAEL J. GRIFFIN.

A familiar personage to our citizens is Police Commissioner Michael J. Griffin. For upwards of 45 years Mr. Griffin has had charge of the work at the South Cemetery and has been instrumental in making many improvements in the City of the Dead. He has been a member of the city council and is serving his third term as police commissioner, and is regarded as a valuable member of that body.

machines were active off the south coast of Ireland. On the same day an other message saying: "Take Liverpool port at bar and avoid headlands. Pass harbors at full speed. Steer mid-channel course. Submarines at East-act." On May 7, the day of the disaster, he had two messages. The first read: "Submarines active in southern part of Irish channel. Last heard of 20 miles south of Coningbeg light vessel." Later in the day this: "Submarines five miles south of Cape Clear proceeding west when sighted at 10 a. m."

Despite all these warnings, two of which directed him to keep in mid-channel, he actually went within 10 miles of the Irish coast, though he thought he was fifteen miles away from it. He admitted when asked by Lord Morley how wide the channel was at that point, that it is 140 miles in width. The attorney-general asked him: "You do not really think, do you, you were in mid-channel or anywhere near it?" to which he replied, "I did not think it was mid-channel exactly, but I thought I was far enough away from the land."

That was not the only form of his disobedience. He did not put on speed as he was ordered to do because he feared he might have to wait for a pilot at the bar. His warnings told him that a ship should zigzag its course when cruising in an area known to be infested with submarines. He did not because he understood "that it was only when you saw a submarine that you should zigzag." Another fact almost incredible, was brought out in the hearing, that on the day of the sinking he sounded his fog-horn every minute, as he would do in time of peace. It did not occur to him, he said, that it might be very dangerous.

So it turns out that that frightful and wanton slaughter might have been avoided if the captain of the vessel had not been stupid, obstinate and disobedient.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Will Soon Be Detached.
Lieut. Harold E. Donnell of the reserve corps, attached to the naval prison will shortly be placed on the inactive list and is understood to have received the appointment of Warden of a new state reformatory located in Maine.

To Recommend Increase.
Pay increase for officers and men of the navy will be recommended to Congress by the House Naval Affairs Committee at the opening of the next session. Except for recruits, whose pay is $33 a month, increases would be general under a plan approved by the sub committee.

Back From Washington.
Fred N. Staten and William F. Noyes, representing the navy yard employees, arrived home from Washington on Wednesday where they have been in the interest of the local yard. A report of what they accomplished will be made tonight in the Odd Fellows' hall at a meeting of the Metal Trades Council and other navy yard employees.

Few Days in New York
Captain L. H. Adams of the Industrial Department is passing a few days in New York.

Docking Orders.
The submarine and destroyer Lanchester will be floated from the drydock on Saturday. The Innes and McKee will go in for painting and hull work next week.

Doing Some Hiking.
Each pleasant day officers of the yard and ships can be seen taking the required walking test for three hours. Many of them follow electric street car lines while out on the required hike.

Part of Fleet Arrive.
Three mine sweepers, Woodcock, Swan and Curlew; two tugs, Palapasco and Patience arrived in the lower harbor late Wednesday night.

Sixteen Transferred.
Among the transfers made of detail men from the receiving ship Southey today seven went to the Arizona at New York; two to the Nevada at Philadelphia; two to North Dakota at Hampton Roads; five to the Utah at Boston, all from the engineers division.

Funeral of Lieut. Heath.
The funeral services of the late Lieut. H. H. Heath who died at the naval hospital on Sunday last were held at Manchester on Wednesday. The bearers were six sailors, members of the American Legion of that city. They were J. Verries, P. E. Gooselin, R. Rogers, A. Goren, J. Harbour and S. A. Knight. Honorary bearers were R. S. Nelson, Charles Shaw, W. H. Andrews and A. J. Abbott. Here was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes from relatives and friends. Burial was in the Heath family lot in Pine Grove cemetery.

TO ENTERTAIN

STORER POST.
Storer Relief Corps held its regular meeting on Wednesday evening. The routine business was transacted and it was voted to entertain the Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., on some evening in December. Mrs. Orlinda Carl is chosen chairman to make the arrangements for the occasion.

GIVE CHEER TO SHUT-INS.
The Junior Epworth League of the Methodist church carried 30 holiday baskets of fruit and vegetables to "shut-ins" of the Methodist society and decorated fancy baskets given by the Methodist society to each bed patient at the naval hospital, these being filled with fruit, nuts and candy. Twenty-five baskets filled with goodies were sent to boys on the Solace, the hospital ship, this work being done under the direction of Miss Mae Smith, deaconess of the Methodist society. The Junior League was only organized in October and the members certainly are a unit in the spirit of doing for others and it is most commendable.

A Question for Wall Street
(From the New York World)
The great banking powers of Wall street have lately shown no lack of credit to extend in promotion of a most dangerous inflation of stock-market prices. It is not possible that they may serve their own interests better in the long run, while serving the solid industrial interests of the country by diverting some of that credit to a famished and industrially crippled Europe?

How the Lusitania was Lost
(Boston Herald)
The British government has recently permitted the disclosure of one of the closely-kept war secrets. The astonishing admissions of Captain Turner of the Lusitania make it clear that one of the most heartrending horrors of the war was made possible by his disregard of plain warnings and disobedience of explicit orders. He took his ship where he was instructed not to take it and even disregarded the ordinary zigzagging device in a region where he was warned there were submarines infesting the sea for the reason that he could not see any submarines.

Here are the warnings given to him before he left New York on March 22 he received this admiral's instruction: "Most important that vessels passing up the Irish or English channel should keep mid-channel course." On May 6 he received a wireless message from the admiral telling him that sub-

ATLANTIC CORPORATION GETS NEW CONTRACT

H. C. RAYNES, GENERAL MANAGER ATLANTIC CORPORATION

Company Will Be Conducted As Private Corporation--Adjusts Its Affairs With U. S. Government--All Creditors to Be Paid

The Herald announced a few days ago that the affairs of the Atlantic Corporation were being rapidly straightened out and things were most promising. It is pleased to give to the citizens of Portsmouth the news that the corporation has adjusted its matters with the Emergency Fleet. A new contract calling for the completion of the present list of ships on new terms has been made. Upon the completion of the government ships the present corporation takes over the plant and it is proposed to keep a live and bustling industry going. The papers were passed by the government on Saturday and it provides for the payment of all claims against the corporation at an early date in a matter which they are on account of plant or ships. This will be good news to many of our people. The Herald is also in a position to state that the company may build at least 20 more ships and it also has a contract order for 50 steel tankers. The plans have also been made to construct a number of steel barges. The officers of the company have been hard at work and to the credit of General Manager H. C. Raynes, and his staff in producing fine ships, is due much of the credit of securing the factory for Portsmouth. The mortgage held by the Chase National Bank has been transferred to the Emergency Fleet. In the settlement with the government the property is to be taken over by the Atlantic Corporation in its entirety and operated as a privately owned industry. From President Arthur A. Sharpe down to the humblest employee there is much interest in the new deal. Many other big men are to join with the present owners in putting the company in a position to continue after the government ships are commissioned. Instead of the government taking over the industry it is being transferred to the men now at the head of the Atlantic Corporation.

Hobart Newell, an assistant instructor at the Worcester Polytechnic school, has been passing a few days with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Elmer D. Newell, at the Methodist parsonage on State street.

VETERAN FIREMEN ARE MISSED IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Annual Gathering of the "Red Shirts" was a Big Event.

Among the several local public events which took place on Thanksgiving Eve one was missing which has been on the social program for years, the ball of the Veteran Firemen. Going back for many years this ball has been an annual event when the "Red Shirts" spread themselves and packed the dance hall to the doors. This affair was always sure to catch the old time dancers and above all the families and friends of the Veterans. Although they had concluded their days in fire fighting, they moved to the crowd each year that they were high spirits in entertaining. It cannot be possible that these pioneer fire fighters have retired from the field and passed on the annual social gathering which brought them as much fun as their period of fighting the flames.

The people always welcomed any public event of these "brave lads" and the eve of this holiday does not seem the same without the Vets with their red shirts, making merry in the old time quadrille, Virginia reel, Portland tuncy and other dances dear to the heart of a Breton.

THANKS THE JUDGE FOR JAIL SENTENCE

Aged Prisoner Grateful for the Court's Clemency.

A. Frank Williams, alias Osgood and Pickbarks, 70 years of age, was before Judge Winn in the Alveyhill police court recently charged with carrying a loaded revolver without a permit and breaking and entering a tenement house.

He pleaded for a chance to go straight. He admitted that he had served in the Massachusetts and New Hampshire Reformatories. When the court imposed a six months sentence in the House of Correction he politely thanked Judge Winn for his clemency.

The local provident dealers all report a big Thanksgiving business.

ADRIATIC QUESTION TO BE TAKEN UP

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 28.--Great Britain has given Jugo Slavia assurances that the Adriatic question will soon be taken up by the Supreme Council, and that Great Britain's influence will be used to secure a just and equitable settlement in the court, according to private dispatches.

NO STRIKE VOTE TAKEN AT R. R. CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 27.—The five hundred general chairmen of the four brotherhoods of railroad men, called to consider the time and a half proposal of Director General Hines ended the four days' conference late today and appointed a committee to confer with Director General Hines next week as to further information to the effect of the elimination of arbitrations and allowances as requested by Mr. Hines would have on the offer of time and a half for overtime for slow freight service. No strike vote was taken.

LIVING ROOM COMFORT

People are often full to get the proper idea of living room comfort. Living room comfort is not brought about by things in sets, by stiffness, and very rarely by the room which has not, in some measure, grown with the needs of family life. Some things we cannot buy ready made, you know.

The "ready made" living room has to be separated by use and living; it must be added to by this touch or that; it must be grown around to fit the needs of the family, just as a man's favorite chair becomes a more born companion as the years go on and he is loath to give up his oldest slipper. The bought ready made living room needs a lot of attention before it becomes a possession.

The "added to" living room stands more chance—a living room in which there are a few holes, not in the walls, in the furniture, where they oughtn't to be, but holes of space, so to speak. Where there is room to put just the right sort of desk when at last it is found after waiting; where a chair can be gotten in without squeezing; where the soft, squishy downport, awaited for years, when it is finally afforded, can slip right into the space you've saved for it; where you haven't so many things you don't like that when you've discovered the kind you've always wanted you can get it with joy and thanksgiving; and set it in the place of honor, on the mahogany table you had bought the year before you got your sofa, because you knew it would look so well back of the sort of sofa you hoped some day to buy.

Do slowly in the furnishing of your living room. It is better to spend a certain amount of money on one piece of furniture instead of two, if it isn't a very big amount, and to patiently wait until the next year for the second piece. Look how much better furniture you are laying up to be proud of in your old age!

And it is such fun to be on the watch out for the occasion piece of furniture that's going to mean such a lot to you always. And you're so glad, when you've found it, that you're not numbered up with a set.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and restore natural color with a bottle of "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

RECEIVE COMPLAINTS

(By Associated Press)
London, Nov. 26.—More than a thousand letters are received daily at No. 10 Downing street, the Premier Lloyd George's official residence, complaining of government waste and extravagance. Three typists are engaged in opening and classifying them.

A. J. Frazier is building a garage at Fayer's Corner which will be opened to the public in the near future.

COUNT FIFTY! PAINS AND NEURALGIA GONE

Instant Relief! Rub this nerve torture and misery right out With "St. Jacobs Liment."

Rub this soothing, penetrating, germicidal ointment on the forehead, temples, neck, and the back—neuralgia disappears. "St. Jacobs Liment" counteracts pain. It is a harmless "non-alcoholic" which doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Don't suffer! It is needless, first a small trial bottle from any drug store, and gently rub the "aching" nerves, and in just a moment you will be absolutely free from pain and suffering.

No difference whether your pain or neuralgia is in the face, head or any part of the body, you get instant relief with this old-time honest pain destroyer—it cannot injure. In use for more than 60 years.

"JOAN OF ARKANSAW"

"Joan of Arkansaw," Arthur Hammerstein's latest musical comedy, begins its Boston engagement at the Majestic Theatre next Monday night, and from all reports Boston lovers of fun and merriment have a rare treat in store for them. Although any production bearing the Hammerstein name is expected to be more than ordinarily good, this production of Arthur Hammerstein's latest musical comedy is said to be doubly excellent.

First of all it has as a basis a very definite and a very funny plot for which Herbert P. Stothart has provided a score said to be the most tuneful of the year. Then Mr. Hammerstein has assembled for the piece one of his famous distinctive choruses said to be the most delectable musical treat a several seasons. And lastly a notable and efficient cast of youthful and enthusiastic players is provided to carry through the production.

The composer will conduct the orchestra at the opening performance. Not to mention the wise words of the ensemble among those who will be seen in "Joan" are the Anna Seymour, Julia Kelly, Helen Ford, Minnie Alene, Frank McCormack, Walter Scanlon, Russell Mack, Edward Chinelloni, Fred Threlly, Joseph Barton, Cecil and Annie, Beatrice Summers, and Emily Russ.

The scenes are laid in Troville, France, and the action deals with—why, detract from anticipatory pleasure? Among the score of what-what-what tunes are "The Day So," "The Three Business Men," "Same Old Place," "Some Day Something," "A Wonderful Star," "I Never Miss" and "The Voice of England."

In his previous offering "Some Time" Mr. Hammerstein set a very high standard of all-round entertainment. In "Joan of Arkansaw" he has gone himself one better.

N. H. STATE TO HAVE NEW ATHLETIC FIELD

Durham, N. H., Nov. 27.—New Hampshire State college will have a new athletic field next year, announcement to this effect being made here today through the Alumni Association of the college which has pledged $25,000 for the new field. The present oval and sodden field will be rebuilt for football and track, while a new baseball field will be made beyond the Boston and Maine tracks. The new field will be covered with blue grass and is expected to be second to none in the college world. Work on the baseball field already has been started and it is hoped to have it ready by spring.

Speaker—Dr. Harry L. Paddon of the Grenfell Mission
Subject—"Following Christ in Labrador"

(Illustrated by the Stereopticon)

Dr. Paddon, for seven years, summer and winter, travelling hundreds of miles with dog sleds, has served the Labrador as a devoted Christian physician. His story has to do with one of the most interesting and adventurous enterprises of practical Christianity.

MAN AND BOY
PINNED UNDER AUTOMOBILE

Miraculous Escape When Car
Turns Turtle on Rye Road.

Pinned under an auto and coming out without any serious injury can be regarded as a miraculous escape for Dr. Zarella of Lynn and a six year old child, Robert Coss, the son of Walter Coss of Rye. The accident took place on Thursday afternoon on the Rye road when the automobile driven by the doctor skidded on the highway and turned turtle. The automobile was not moving very fast at the time which no doubt helped to lessen the injury of the occupants. Dr. Zarella worked him self from the overturned car and quickly released the child and hurried him to the local hospital where the X-ray showed no broken limbs. Anxious on the face and body were all that the boy received and the doctor came out with only a few cuts and bruises.

Theodore Pullos placed under arrest on a charge of causing the injury of Miss Paula Pappa on Wednesday evening on Edington street when the girl was knocked down and dragged considerable distance by an automobile, was arraigned in the municipal court today charged with neglecting to stop knowing a party on the highway had been struck. Pullos was arrested at a garage on Cornwall street where some one had followed the machine and claimed it showed defects from the accident. Pullos through his attorney John L. Mitchell, pleaded not guilty and the case was continued for further hearing on December 6 to await the result of the girl's condition at the hospital.

McENELLY'S ORCHESTRA

The McEnelly orchestra will be at Freeman's hall Tuesday evening, December 2nd. One of the special features of the concert program will be a violin solo by Mr. McEnelly. This popular leader has never played a solo in his city always being content to let the other men carry that part of the program. The concert Tuesday evening is one specially selected by Mr. McEnelly with a view of pleasing the ears of music loving people in this city and is sure to bring out the biggest gathering in the orchestra's local holdings.

THIRD IN CONTEST

Ramsdell Beats Waldron at Dover by 52 Majority.

Senator Alvin T. Ramsdell was elected Mayor Dover by 52 majority of representative Charles H. Waldron in the city election. The fight was a spirited one throughout, especially for the mayoralty nominees and street commissioner. Frank Carragher, a former officer stationed at the local navy yard ran third highest for commissioner among the seven candidates. The total vote for the several candidates was as follows:

Waldron 839, Willard 58, Barrett 16, Carragher 108, Weiss 51, Morris 15, Carragher 108.

Waldron cut the republican majority to the lowest figure in 20 years.

MEXICO REFUSES TO RELEASE W. O. JENKINS

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 27.—Mexico has refused with argument and diplomatic refusal to the United States' demand for the release of the U. S. Consul Agent William O. Jenkins in person at Puebla. The note was not made public but it is intimated that it follows the lines given out by the Mexican consul agent at El Paso last night. The Mexican reply which was dictated by President Carranza argues that the government cannot release a prisoner whose case is in the process of trial by the courts and contends that there is no ground for the U. S. making any such claims for the release of Jenkins.

With baseball going so big with sport lovers, with so much money in sight for a winning team, it is one of the riddles of sport that such a proven genius of a leader as Carrigan is allowed to stay out of the game. Carrigan is in the Boston Herald.

MOOSE OPEN FOUR NIGHT CARNIVAL

The Portsmouth Lodge of Moose opened their four days carnival at Freeman's hall on Wednesday evening and despite the storm there was a good crowd present.

The hall is fitted up in bazaar fashion and the booths of ample size and all well stocked with goods. The booths have all been built by the lodge members and they are very pretty, the latter work being festooned with roses and ferns.

The Carnival which is along the lines of the other successful affairs of this organization presents a variety of attractions. The booths which all did a big business were plentifully supplied. There were candy, pillows, toilet articles, cane rack, ring toss, meats, cigars, dolls, knife rack, turkeys and ice cream and tonic. The booths were in charge of the members who were assisted by a hustling lot of young lady floor workers.

GIRL KNOCKED DOWN BY AUTO ON ISLINGTON ST.

Miss Susie Pappas, employed at the Gale Shoe factory, was struck by an automobile on Islington street shortly after six o'clock on Wednesday evening and severely injured.

Miss Pappas was on her way from work when in crossing Cornwall street, an automobile suddenly turned from Islington into Cornwall street. The machine struck the young lady, knocking her down and dragged her some little distance. The driver of the car did not stop but kept on going, and disappeared.

The young lady was taken to the Portsmouth hospital where she was found to have sustained a fractured collar bone and to be otherwise bruised and cut about the body. The police are investigating the case and it is understood that the owner of the car is known and that an arrest will follow.

FLANDERS MUD BEING UTILIZED

Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 26.—Flanders mud, the name of all armies operating in Belgium, is of some use after all.

Mud is practically unobtainable in Belgium today and in many of the ruined villages, the refugees are laying stones and bricks with mud for temporary shelter against the coming winter. Others fill the chimneys in their chimneys and walls with it and altogether it is becoming as much of a comfort to the refugees as it was a handicap to the soldiers who lived in it for months.

FAMOUS COACH TALKS ABOUT FOOTBALL

George Foster Sanford, football coach at Rutgers college and recognized as one of the leaders in the great gridiron game, offered much food for thought in some terse remarks offered at a football luncheon recently in New York. Of course, there was food for digestion in conventional manner. Material things were forgotten, however, when the big coach began to discuss football in his forceful, convincing way.

"Methods, and not men win football games," said Sanford, and at once those present poured forth a torrent of protesting questions.

"How about Jim Thorpe?" shot from the lips of ten men who remembered the deeds of the great Indian. "Jim Thorpe would never have been able to get going if the right method had been used against him," thundered Sanford. "The backfield never moved behind a line that could move from his tracks if the forwards did not perform their assigned duties. I am a coach who specializes upon the defense. I know that if I can build a defense that will repulse the attack of the other team the rival cannot score and knowing that they can't score I believe that I may."

"In preparing for a football game I study the attack of my rivals. I study it from all sides noting how the line men charge, who is sent beyond the line to clean up the secondaries, and how the interference forms and runs. Then I build my defense, my attack, founded on what I believe to be very sound principles, should achieve results. Oh, I have a few plays that I call 'Chinese chances' devised to catch teams which do not play the game. But on the other hand, I believe that the other team is going to play good football."

The talk turned to football plays and players and Sanford sprung another surprise when he declared that Ted Coy was about the greatest back he had ever seen. Sandle declared that Coy was not only a wonderful back but that he could play in the line and do anything else that a player could be expected to do.

BRITISH SEE POLITICAL MOVE IN COAL COST REDUCTION

London, Nov. 25.—No domestic event in a long time has so stirred the press as the reduction in the price of coal, announced in the House of Commons yesterday by Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction. A deep political move is imagined in some quarters to be at the bottom of the matter, one editorial suggestion being that as several by-elections are impending the concession to householders is a vote-catching device.

While the coal owners, thru some of their spokesmen, declare the reduction in price means ruin for them, as coal cannot be produced under such conditions except at a heavy loss, they miners' leaders contend that the reduction can and ought to be carried much further.

Enforced Reform in Turkey

(From the New York Herald)
Owing to the high cost of living the Sultan of Turkey and the Pachas are to reduce the number of their wives. It would be interesting to know, if those retained are to be decided on by the rule of seniority.

MINERS AND OPERATORS FAIL TO SETTLE STRIKE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 27.—An abrupt end came to all attempts to settle the nation wide strike of the soft coal miners by peaceful agreement. The miners and operators spent the afternoon in embittered debate over the government proposal of a fourteen per cent wage increase made by Fuel Administrator Garfield, rejected it and all other proposals and decided also die.

The miners and operators went home tonight but where the break left the coal strike condition neither of them would say. Likewise official quarters were silent. Adding President of the United Mine Workers, John L. Lewis, scored the government proposal at the conclusion of the meeting as did William Green, the secretary of the Mine Workers.

The operators who accepted the government proposal definitely in a letter to Dr. Garfield which was made public, intimated that the government refusal to allow price increases could bear reconsideration.

In the course of the debate the operators offered to accept the government proposal made last night by Dr. Garfield for a fourteen per cent increase in the price of coal. This the miners rejected and presented a proposal of an increase of 31 per cent as suggested by Secretary of Labor Wilson earlier in the controversy. The operators immediately voted this down and John L. Lewis the acting president of the miners moved a final adjournment. This was held up while a proposition of the operators to submit the whole question to arbitration. The miners would not accept this and the vote for adjournment was taken and carried.

JUGO-SLAV DID NOT SIGN TREATY

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Nov. 26.—Contrary to expectation the delegation from the Jugo-Slav did not sign the Austrian treaty this afternoon. The reason advanced was that they did not have the necessary power to sign the amendments.

Dr. Garfield said that Secretary Wilson made his proposal as a mediator to facilitate conciliation and he said that Secretary Wilson had told him that same day that it was the duty of the Fuel Administrator to fix prices and not that of the Secretary of Labor.

The cabinet has decided that the case suggested by Dr. Garfield is sound and right. He declared that the miners' without the fourteen per cent increase were much better off than the employees of other industries.

A permanent body with purely advisory power consisting of the Secretary of the Interior as chairman and in equal delegation of operators and miners was recommended by Dr. Garfield as a board to continue to apply the principles of the fuel administration to the unsettled questions of wages, traffic and living conditions.

John L. Lewis, the acting president of the United Mine Workers, declared at the meeting with Dr. Garfield that the miners would not accept the fourteen per cent. A number of miners attempted to cheer the wage scale proposal. Alexander Howatt, president of the Kansas Miners, characterized the offer as an "insult" and said, "we are ready to go home and fight it out."

CARRIGAN VISITS HUB, SAYS MIGHT CONSIDER BUYING BIG LEAGUE CLUB

Bill Carrigan and Bill Gray, his partner in the northern New England theatrical business, were in Boston Tuesday night and admitted that if the proposition looked good to them, they might be willing to talk about buying a big league ball club. They left for Lewiston Wednesday morning and down into the Maine woods will forthwith go into their woods camp and try to snag a deer or two.

Either big league would consider it itself the gainer by having Bill Carrigan hop in as a manager, either as manager-president or just as manager, with some one else, say Bill Gray, as the president of the team. "Rough" Carrigan piloted the Red Sox to two straight world championships in 1915 and 1916. He has been all the way through the big league mill. He has the support of players and their respect and of the baseball public.

So you see that the former pilot of the Sox still thinks in terms of baseball. He loves the game and you cannot blame him for doing so, because it is the sport which he mastered and in which he hit a higher place than any other man has attained.

With baseball going so big with sport lovers, with so much money in sight for a winning team, it is one of the riddles of sport that such a proven genius of a leader as Carrigan is allowed to stay out of the game. Carrigan is in the Boston Herald.

WEARING AMERICAN GOLF CAPS

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Nov. 26.—Mohammedans of Boston are wearing American golf caps instead of the red fez which from the time Mohammed laid down the religious tenets for his worshippers, has been the immortal head covering of the Turk.

The Austrian occupation left scarcely a scrap of cloth in the country. Many of the Turks went bareheaded. Then an American Red Cross unit arrived bringing thousands of cutting caps.

The Mohammedans, abandoning their religious scruples, clamored very much for these head-pieces.

Today most of the Turkish school-boys of Boston wear the conventional caps of their Yankee brothers over the ocean and look the better for it.

"LONG SHOTS" WERE WINNERS

(By Associated Press)

London, Nov. 26.—Huron James Rothchild's winnings when his horse Brigand, won the Cambridgehire at Newmarket, recently, are stated to total approximately 300,000. The betting against Brigand fluctuated about the odds of 33 to 1, and Huron Rothchild backed his horse heavily. The day before he had won $30,000 on his horse Tugger, which captured a race at 8 to 1.

Lord Rothchild has always been noted for the large amount of money he has spent in endeavoring to bring off "long shots" in connection with his own horses. During the final big meeting of the flat racing for the season at Newmarket he had several horses entered and two of his "long shots" were winners.

Lord Rothchild is a popular figure in the racing world and is popular for his quick decisions in betting. Apart from this he is noted for his wit and is a brilliant conversationalist. He has a fine war record, having driven motor torpedoes in Serbia and served with the French flying corps. He was killed by a bad motor smash during his war services.

Recently he lost the sight of one eye which was struck by a golf ball while he was playing in France.

During the tube and omnibus strike in Paris he drove an omnibus.

CHILDHOOD LIFE OF T. B. ALDRICH

(By Mary S. Stimpson, well known Boston author of children's books and collaborator with the late Julia Ward Howe.)

People nearly always smile at the mere mention of "The Story of a Bad Boy" and "Majority Dues." The author of these books, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, was born in Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 11, 1836. As he was the only child he received much petting from all his relatives. His grandfather, Thomas Darling Bailey (who is Grandfather Nutter in "The Story of a Bad Boy") was delighted because for years every one in Portsmouth spoke of his grandson as Tom Bailey.

Tom was bubbling over with fun and mischief and the list of great natural pranks he played would fill a book, yet he was a general favorite. He was truthful, generous hearted, and very affectionate. Indeed, he was so fond of his mother's younger sister, that when she was married, when he was ten years old, he insisted upon accompanying the couple on their wedding journey.

This was by no means his only trip, for, owing to his father's frequent changes in business, the family visited, first and last, nearly every state in the Union. For several winters they lived in New York and New Orleans, but their long summers were passed in Portsmouth at Tom's grandfather's house on Court street. This very house now the Aldrich Memorial Museum, is visited by many travelers and tourists, who can see the large wainscotted room, with their old-fashioned wall papers, large fire places and handsome mirrors, in which Tom played as a boy. Even the little is furnished with the very best he used to pore over on rainy afternoons. His favorites were "Arabian Nights" and "Robinson Crusoe." One day he found an old trunk filled under the eaves which proved to be full of novels, books of adventure and travel. And to these fled whenever he tired of the private theatricals which were held in the hallway; riding his pony "Gypsy," flying kites, or playing with his many dolls. Before Tom was sent to the Temple school he had found out that he did not care for arithmetic—history, poetry and travel suited him perfectly.

He loved to wander among the warehouses and wharves of the old waterfront town and was overjoyed when he was permitted to take some trading trips on the Mississippi with his father. Just like any healthy, wide-awake boy he liked novelty and excitement. One of the funniest incidents of his boyhood at Portsmouth was in connection with the old trunk in the attic. He had felt sorry that the trunk was so nearly worn out, and noticed in a father's window a sure cure for badness, invented in the liquid and applied it in a generous quantity. He watched the trunk carefully for many days but even with repeated doses no hair appeared and he was greatly disappointed over his failure.

Tom managed to keep his grandfather's household more or less stirred up. He had a narrow escape from blindness in a fourth of July celebration; he was slipped unconsciously by his parent and tumbled; he occasionally came home from school with a closed eye on account of settling ac-

Made Me a Well Man

Mr. Louis Young, 1652 Clifford St., Rochester, N. Y., writes:
"I suffered for thirty years with chronic bowel trouble, stomach trouble and hemorrhages of the bowels. I bought a bottle of Peruna and I took it faithfully, and I began to feel better. My wife persuaded me to continue, and I took it for some time as directed. Now I am a well man."

BRITISH NURSES TO HAVE UNION

London, Nov. 26.—British nurses are to have a trade union. At the meeting where the new organization had its inception, a nurse expressed the hope that any strike in which the members might in future participate would be directed against the employers and not the patients.

"GOOD MORNING JUDGE"

As the author of "The Magistrate," Placido is only one of a flock of contraband drawing royalties for the musical comedy, "Good Morning Judge," which will be the attraction at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, beginning Monday, Dec. 1st. Fred Thompson is responsible for the musical comedy book and Adrian Ross and Percy Greenbank for the lyrics. Two extremely popular and successful composers must be reckoned with for the music—Lionel Moncton and Howard Talbot who will be represented in this country through "A Chinese Honeymoon," "The Orchid," "A Runaway Girl," "The Arcadians," "The Girls of Gottenberg," "The Girl Behind the Counter" and numerous attractions in which their music was employed.

The aggregate royalties—which, by the way, are said to be the highest exacted from any offering on the American stage today and the unusual demands made upon the "cast," which must meet the requirements of drama as well as musical comedy because of the unique construction of the piece, are responsible for the fact that only one organization is presenting "Good Morning Judge" in America. The local engagement will be played by the New York organization which headed by George Russell in the role of the tyrannical old magistrate, whose night bawling procreation, accused by his precocious stepson, and the judicial dignity and his entire family in trouble of the most hilarious sort.

Hussel, who, until comparatively recently, was a portrayal of Shakespearean roles, created this part of Magistrate Meobles in this country and is the only man who overplayed it here in musical comedy form. He is a newcomer to that frothy and frivolous type of entertainment, having made a very successful debut as a rotund "butler" in "Love n' Mike."

MEXICAN BRANCH IS ORGANIZED

Mexico City, Nov. 25.—As a result of the recent convention of the Associated Advertisers of the World in New Orleans which was attended by three Mexican City newspaper editors, a Mexican branch of that organization has been formed which will co-operate in forming a Pan-American association. Temporary officers elected at the first meeting included Felix P. Paleyevski of Universal president; Rafael Abundia of Excelsior, vice president; Alfonso L. Reyes of El Heraldico de Mexico, secretary.

The Herald publishes the local news from 24 to 48 hours in advance of its would-be competitor.

CRITICIZE THE SALVAGE OPERATIONS

London, Nov. 25.—Civilian visitors returning from tours of the battlefields in France criticize the salvage operations still being carried on there.

"Men who ought to be back at their work in England are engaged in collecting useless scrap on every battlefield under the direction of officers who have lost all keenness for work since the war ended a year ago," complained one returning visitor.

"I spoke to two officers, each of whom told me that the value of the salvage would not compare with the money spent in these operations," said another.

Others say that the French are complaining of the presence of thousands of Chinese laborers engaged on this work laying out trench courts or building useless army huts.

TO HOLD SUGAR PRICES LEVEL

New York, Nov. 25.—Asserting that there is no real reason why a sugar shortage should exist here, Arthur Williams, federal food administrator, declared today that he was going to investigate reports of shortages and leave the cause of them. His reports, he explained, showed that the refineries in this district were returning out more than enough to supply the normal demand.

Any attempt to hoard sugar in the expectation of getting a higher price after the first of the year will be futile, he said, because the government will control the price for another year. He advised hoarders of sugar to get rid of it quickly, "for if we find it we will get it out of their cellars within 24 hours."

RETURN OF BODIES DELAYED BY FRANCE

Paris, Nov. 25.—(By A. P.)—The 65,000 American dead in France must be left in the graves they now occupy until the French are ready to exhume their own dead, which it is hoped will be before Jan. 1, 1922.

The Foreign Office has promised to consider the latest request of the American Government for the return of its fallen soldiers, but later the following official announcement was made:

"It has been definitely decided that the Allies who fell together for the same cause should remain together in death until circumstances permit of the returning of the bodies to the families for whom they sacrificed themselves."

The proposed law forbidding the exhumation of the soldier dead for three years did not pass at the last session of the Chamber of Deputies, but the Foreign Office expects that it will be adopted soon.

This bill specifies a delay in exhumation of three years from the promulgation of the war, but it is expected that this period will be shortened. At the Foreign Office it is said to be probable that the exhumation will begin considerably before January, 1922.

The French Government is anxious to hasten matters, as French families also are pressing, but there are many thousands of unidentified dead, and transportation facilities are utterly inadequate to move the 1,600,000 bodies in local cemeteries.

The British and Belgian Governments also are urging for the return of their dead, but France considers it only fair to treat all countries alike.

BIG INCREASE IN HOME WINE MAKING

Washington, Nov. 25.—Wine making is becoming a "home industry," officials of the Department of Agriculture assert. Grapes that formerly went direct from the vineyard to the wine press chose a different route under the Volstead Prohibition act, but eventually reach the same destination.

This is seen in the heavy increase in grape shipments during this season. In Northern and Central California, shipments have practically been doubled, and increases also are seen from other grape growing districts. Officials say the grapes have gone to the retail trade of large eastern cities, such as New York and Boston, where they are purchased by foreigners accustomed to the use of wine. Whether the home process is anything stranger than one-half of one per cent the department does not attempt to say.

California has shipped this year 21,360 carloads, compared with about 15,000 for the entire twelve months last year. Damaged fruit is perfectly good for the home still.

U. S. MERCHANT MARINE GROWS

New York, Nov. 25.—The American merchant marine has expanded to a fleet of 9,773,000 tons in ocean service, according to figures made public tonight by the National Marine League. In addition Great Lakes shipping measures 2,000,000 tons, giving a total of 11,773,000 against Great Britain's 18,000,000 tons.

To stimulate the interest of the country in the shipping programme with the ultimate object of surpassing England as a maritime nation, a national marine exhibit will be held in Grand Central Palace April 12 to 17 of next year under the auspices of the league.

new erstwhile Russian border states as might receive the approval of the Entente.

The paper denounces the German in dependency Socialists for endeavoring to induce the German government to open negotiations with the soviet government of Russia. It declares that the intention of the Independents is to lead the German government to support the Russian Bolshevik regime and to give it military, economic and diplomatic backing.

"This," says the paper, "would be a breach of the peace terms and would bring about just what the Independents are so anxious to avoid, a conflict with the Entente."

"It must remain, therefore, that the German government lives with the soviet government neither in peace nor war, but that it awaits the development of affairs in eastern Europe until the hour when relations can be established, without endangering Germany's fate."

BURLESON FOR CENT POSTAGE

Washington, Nov. 25.—Postmaster-General Burleson has approved pending bills to reduce the rate of local first class letter postage to a penny an ounce. A letter for delivery within the postal limits of the office in which it is mailed would take a one-cent stamp instead of a two-cent stamp.

Mr. Burleson has advised congressmen that the present two-cent charge on that class of mail exceeds the cost of handling and that he recommends the reduction because he believes the postal service should not be conducted for profit. The reduction of last July, whereby letters went back to the normal rate of two cents and postal cards to one cent, the postmaster-general says, resulted in a large increase in that class of mail, and he believes one cent local letter delivery would not reduce the total postal revenue more than $11,000,000 a year.

MAINE 'JAKY' TRADE BRISK

Biddeford, Me., Nov. 25.—All kinds of schemes are being worked to get "Jaky" into the state of Maine and it is hinted that some railroad men may be mixed up in an investigation which is being made quietly.

Women have been brought into the illegal traffic business, and two of them were held up at the Western division station recently with almost 17 quarts of the stuff which was bought in Lawrence, Mass.

The two women are under $500 bonds for their appearance in the supreme court after receiving jail sentences in the police court and entering appeals. The four ounce bottles of "Jaky" sell for $1.50 in this city and the claim is made that it is bought for 30 cents a bottle in Massachusetts.

AMERICA IS SUPPLANTING GREAT BRITAIN

London, Nov. 25.—Evidence that America is supplanting Great Britain in coal markets of South America and Europe is seen by the Shipping World. The paper attributes this to restrictions imposed on shipping that other who might be available for carrying British coal.

"The result is that traders abroad who want coal are getting it from other regions," it says. "The South American trade has fallen almost inevitably into the hands of ship-owners from the United States; but more ominous still is the fact that the ship-owners from Virginia are coming almost daily to ports of Europe, Gothemburg, Dinksh, Antwerp, Rotterdam, London, Genoa, and other ports of Italy are receiving American coal at freight rates which only their urgent needs can justify. Even to Long Sand American coals have been shipped."

"The question arises whether this is merely a passing phase due to the present scarcity of tonnage, or whether these American ships are a pioneer of a new form of enterprise of the western continent which is destined to become a permanent feature of trade. It must not be assumed that with the increase of British shipping that will assuredly come in a year or two, the aid lines of trade will be so easily regained. The river plate trade may to a considerable extent be written off."

"The great proximity of European ports to the United Kingdom will be an advantage to British shipowners in their endeavor to regain the continental trade, but it will be no easy task to break the trade connections that American competitors are now engaging in forming."

MOVEMENT FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING STARTED

New York, Nov. 25.—Surveys by Chambers of Commerce and industrial organizations are in progress in sixteen states to ascertain public sentiment regarding a continuation of daylight saving and the campaign will be extended throughout the country before next April, according to Marcus M. Marks, president of the National Daylight Saving Association.

The states where the movement is under way for permanently exchanging "an hour of night for an hour of light" are Massachusetts, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Colorado, Utah, Connecticut, Minnesota and Kentucky.

Proponents of the idea in Massachusetts, 2,800 manufacturers belonging to the Associated Industries of that state, who are making the survey there, according to Mr. Marks, reported that a bill would be introduced in the next legislature which meets in January and that "it would be supported by a majority in both the Senate and House."

New York state for two years has had a daylight saving law on its statute books and, Mr. Marks said, any effort to repeal it would be hopeless, without the help of legislators from New York and Buffalo most of whom, he said, had been found in favor of the law. At present the months for daylight saving in New York conform to the old Federal statute, from March to October. To have the law uniform, Mr. Marks said, an amendment will be introduced changing the time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September. The New York Board of Aldermen's recent action in passing a daylight saving ordinance, it was said, had impelled other cities to take similar steps.

"Fifteen of the eighteen mayors of Connecticut," continued Mr. Marks, "recently voted unanimously at a conference in New Haven to initiate campaigns in their cities at once for daylight saving. Hartford previously had blazed the trail by adopting an ordinance which will be in effect the last Sunday of April next year. Plainfield, N. J., has taken similar action. In Baltimore, Md., a referendum vote showed that five out of six were in favor of it. Cincinnati has adopted it, so has St. Joseph, Mo., and we are getting encouraging reports from Hoboken, Jersey City, Paterson, Trenton and Camden, N. J., Wilmington, Del., Philadelphia, Scranton and Pittsburgh, Pa., Richmond, Va., Chattanooga and Memphis, Tenn., Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver, Salt Lake City, Milwaukee, Louisville and Lexington, Ky."

"It was the intention of the National Daylight Saving Association, following the repeal of the Federal law," said Mr. Marks, "to confine its efforts this year to the Eastern time zone, but so many cities and towns elsewhere

CARLOAD OF TOBACCO IS DISTRIBUTED

Katrineburg, Nov. 25.—Half a carload of American tobacco has just been distributed by the American Red Cross among the troops of General Denikine, which are operating against the Bolsheviks, in Southern Russia. General Denikine, himself, received two pounds, and the members of his staff one pound. The general was immensely pleased saying:

"With a regular ration of American pipe tobacco, the Southern Russian forces could drive the Bolsheviks out of Moscow in short order." General Denikine places tobacco in first position as a stimulant to morale among soldiers. Most of the American tobacco will be rolled into cigarettes as the ordinary Russian soldier loves to make his own.

When General Denikine learned that the supply of smoking material had arrived he said, "I should like to buy it all but my salary is only $10 a month and I am trying to live within my income. It is the most appreciated gift I have received in years," he added, as he tucked the tobacco away in his saddlebags.

PROHIBITION UP TO STATE OFFICIALS

Washington, Nov. 26.—Enforcement of constitutional prohibition will be placed squarely up to state and municipal authorities, and the federal government machinery will not intervene unless obvious inefficiency on the part of local officials make such action necessary, the board of temperance of the Methodist Episcopal church was told here today by John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner. It was Mr. Kramer's first pronouncement of policy since he assumed office, a week ago.

Mr. Kramer said the people of the country could be divided into two classes.

"Heretofore the line of demarcation has been between those who favored the prohibition of the liquor traffic and those who opposed it," he said. "From now on the line of demarcation will be between those who are in favor of obeying the law, whether their personal views are in harmony with the law or not, and those who will be ready and anxious to violate the law."

Describing the machinery being set up for the enforcement of prohibition laws, Mr. Kramer said: "The first step would be with the various state inspectors."

"They will keep themselves informed as to conditions in their states," he said, "and will report to the state federal directors, who will investigate and report to the district federal agents, who will use his forces to investigate and arrest if evidence warrants. One of the duties of the state federal director will be to enlist the aid of all state officers. He will also endeavor to secure the backing and support of all civic, moral and religious bodies."

"The highest success will be attained only if the great mass of law-abiding people make their influence and power felt," Mr. Kramer said. "Obedience to law should be preached from every pulpit, taught in every school room, urged from every platform."

PRIZE WINNERS AT DURHAM

Durham, N. H., Nov. 25.—The list of boys and girls who were the prize winners at the recent state exhibit of boys' and girls' club work at Milford, N. H., was made public today by State Club Leader H. A. Maynard of the New Hampshire College extension service. Over 200 individual exhibits were sent in by the garden, potato and sweet corn, boys and the canning and sewing girls. The exhibit was easily the largest of the kind ever held in the state, and formed one of the principal attractions at the meetings of the State Horticultural Society, which offered the premiums.

These contests in the various club projects are growing every year in quality and quantity. It is pointed out that many boys and girls compete at the county fairs, and the best of these did not enter in the state contest. Many who visited the exhibit were surprised that youngsters could grow such vegetables and achieve such results in canning and sewing. Over 65 girls sent from three to five articles each in the sewing project.

The winners in the competition are: Potato Project—Arthur, Weymouth; West Chesterfield; Paul Moran, Hopkinton; Fred Peaslee, So. Merrimack; Alice Peaslee, So. Merrimack; Joseph Clough, Sutton; Alice Huddy, Bedford.

Home Garden Project—Beau, Guy Goodwin, Hopkinton; Elmer Wheeler, Milford; J. Rowe Keniston, Gosport.

Squash Project—Elmer Wheeler, Milford; Edward O'Brien, Milford; Joseph Gatto, Milford; Beets—Fred Merrill, Hudson; Florence Wright, Gilmann; Carl O. Wright, Gilmann; Carrots—Carl O. Wright, Gilmann; Fred Conroy, Milford; Fred Merrill, Hudson; Onions—Guy Goodwin, Hopkinton; William Kent, Merrimack; Fred Conroy, Milford; Turnips—Elmer Wheeler, Milford; Onions—Hanna, Milford; Cabbage—Guy Goodwin, Hopkinton; Fred Conroy, Milford; Florence Stearns, Whitest.

CHILDREN CANNOT DEVELOP NORMALLY EXCEPT IN A CHILD'S WORLD

(By Julia Wade Abbott, specialist in Kindergarten Education, Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior.)

When your little child runs away perhaps he is tired of you. No mother, no matter how devoted and wise and loving, can give her child all he needs. He cannot develop normally except in a child's world; he needs other little boys and girls of his own age to play with and to work with.

The child who is born into a large family is fortunate indeed. Of course he never realizes this at the time, and when grown people say, "How fine it is to have so many brothers and sisters," he thinks them just as stupid as when they remark that school days are the happiest time of one's life.

Else or Harold will tell you that when there are four children in your family it means you have to wear their old clothes, and take turns, and you can't have the biggest piece of cake.

Else or Harold will tell you that grown to man's estate he will look back on those days, and all he will remember will be the delightful plays, the chaos with its terrors, the charades, and hide-and-seek in the yard at dusk, and Christmas with the row of stockings by the fireplace, and the Christmas tree where you waited to hear your name called as each gift was taken down.

The joys which everybody shared made more precious the times when you were the only one at such birthday parties, and when you were sick and had mother all to yourself.

But poor little "old child" is a little putative in a foreign land. He may have a nursery full of toys, the grown-ups may be his slaves, but still it is a grown-up world and he is the "child alone."

I know of a little lad who had become bored with all his elaborate toys and had not taken a ride on his rocking horse for days. Then his parents had an inspiration; perhaps he needed other children, and they sent him to a kindergarten. He came home from school one day filled with enthusiasm; he wanted to take his rocking horse to school. His mother thought this was a strange request, but he explained that other children had brought their dolls and picture books and teddy bears.

So the rocking horse was established in one corner of the large kindergarten room and little "old child" stood ninth in line waiting for a turn to ride on his own rocking horse.

But kindergartens are not alone for children who have no brothers or sisters. Every child should begin school in a good kindergarten. We are interested in the relationship which we establish with our peers, not in our superiority to inferior nor to our superiors. In most families the youngest child must either defer to his older brothers or sisters, because they are older, or else he is babied or indulged.

Famous French "Aces" Who Won Seats in Chamber of Deputies

Captain Houtoux and (insert) Captain Rene Fonck

Two famous French aviators won seats in the Chamber of Deputies in the recent elections which resulted in a sweeping victory for the police and followers of Premier Clemenceau. The socialists lost ground generally. The aviators who won at the polls were Captain Rene Fonck, France's "Great Ace," and Captain Houtoux.

NEW ORLEANS SALOONS DOING BUSINESS

(By Associated Press.)
New Orleans, Nov. 26.—Whiskey, beer, wine and in fact every drink that could be found in a well stocked bar, are being sold openly in New Orleans as the result of the decision of Judge Foster declaring the War-time prohibition unconstitutional. Judge Foster ruled that the war came to an official end when Congress adjourned without re-enacting the treaty, and that when President Wilson vetoed the Volstead bill, he said that the army and navy had been demobilized.

BOY WOUNDED EXAMINING A RIFLE

Milford, N. H., Nov. 26.—Fourteen-year-old John Hinds, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Hinds of Highland avenue, is in a critical condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in Nashua from an abdomen wound sustained last night when he accidentally discharged his father's 30-06 hunting rifle.

The boy was examining the weapon left on a table by Dr. Hinds, who had been deer hunting. When the rifle was discharged, the bullet passed through the boy's abdomen and back. He was taken to the hospital at Nashua, where it was said his recovery was doubtful.

SUGAR FOR NEW ENGLAND SENT TO TEXAS

Boston, Nov. 26.—Brig. General John H. Sherburne Federal Sugar Administrator and chairman of the Massachusetts commission on the necessities of life protested today to the Equalization Board against the diversion to Texas of 6,400,000 pounds of raw sugar allotted to a local refinery. In his telegram he said that sugar supply for New England had been reduced to the absolute minimum and that unless the allotment was replaced it would mean the loss of a pound for each person in New England.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and indigestion. In the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation. The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Epsom Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the ash of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate of soda, and is for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

And Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent drink; water drunk which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

AMERICAN WHISKEY CAUSES ALARM

Dublin, Nov. 27.—The importation of many thousands of gallons of American whiskey from the U. S. A. as a result of prohibition in the latter country, has caused alarm in the Irish distilling trade.

War restrictions have greatly hampered the Irish trade. The distillers were prevented in the 1916-17 season from making the usual quantity of whiskey. Next year, they were closed down altogether, and even in the present year were only permitted to make a reduced supply. The prices of course went up, and distillery shares advanced in the stock exchanges.

The American whiskey can easily be sold at a lower price than the Irish article and is being taken up by the Irish retailers. One provincial dealer is said to have paid nearly $200,000 in duty on his consignment. What the distillers are most afraid of is that the American spirit may be blended or "faked up" and sold as Irish or Highland whiskey.

One interesting fact stated in the Dublin papers is that at present no American whiskey is sold in Dublin as such.

PERSHING WILL TOUR COUNTRY

Washington, Nov. 26.—General Pershing will leave Washington Dec. 2, to begin his nation-wide inspection of the military resources of the country. He will visit the Southeastern Department first, but the only definite date of his schedule thus far arranged is a visit to Savannah, Ga., Dec. 8.

From the Southeastern Department the general will go to the Southern Department, visiting the district adjacent to the Mexican border.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

THE WOMAN WHO INTERESTS

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Much has been written about the clever woman who is an unusually good talker but not much has been said about the quiet woman. There is a great value in silence and sometimes as one listens to constant chattering one wonders after all whether the silent woman does not have the best of it. So many times the things we talk about are of a purely personal nature, many of us never get beyond the purely personal nature, many of us never get beyond the personal affairs of our friends. Many times we talk because we are nervous and not because we have something to say. Anyone can talk but it takes self control to keep silent. There are so many places where silence is necessary for the enjoyment of others. Take an art museum for instance, those who go to view the pictures do not want to be interrupted by the silly chatter of those who are there because they think it is the fashion. We might save ourselves any amount of wear and tear if we would control ourselves and talk only when we have something to say and keep silent when we have nothing but petty trifles and petty fault findings. There are people who talk and people who give us a great deal when they do talk but the majority talk for the sake of talking or because with nerves unstrung and minds upset talk on and on at all places, on all occasions, and with all people. The value of silence has yet to be learned and something a woman says the most brilliant thing when she says nothing at all. Indeed if one can offer nothing but criticism one had much better keep still, that is, providing one's criticisms are destructive in their tendencies. Constructive criticisms are always helpful but the constructive criticism never takes the form of fault-finding.

WORTH KNOWING

When frying, the fat should be hot enough to instantly brown the outer surface.

Keep a reliable set of scales in the kitchen and protect yourself against short weight.

Now is the time when heartier food can be packed in the children's school lunches.

Don't forget to sow parsley seed in the kitchen window box to have a supply all winter.

Strong gingham or Japanese crepe is the most serviceable material for winter work dress.

Hot, rich vegetable soup with plenty of juicy croissants will almost make a luncheon by itself.

Always save the crumbs left after cutting fruit cake, and lozenge out, add bread crumbs for a fruit pudding.

STEAM GARMENTS AT HOME

The problems of removing wrinkles from clothing which cannot be pressed to advantage is a perplexing one to many women, when they shake out their crushed garments of cloth, velvet and corduroy.

Quite a simple solution to this difficulty has been found by one woman who always hangs them articles on wet hangers, suspends them over the bath tub, either on the shower rack, if there is one, or on an improvised one strong enough to hold considerable weight.

She then fills the tub almost full of the hottest water she can obtain—boiling if possible—shuts the window and door tightly and allows the garments to remain undisturbed in the steam bath for several hours. Gradually the steam rising from the water permeates every part of the materials, restores the pile to its original surface and relaxes the fibres of the cloth until all the wrinkles have disappeared.

Many garments may be further improved by a thorough brushing. Immediately after the steaming process, in order to remove the dust which has accumulated deep into the nap of the material.

Where the garments require even longer steaming it is a good plan to arrange them the last thing at night, so that they will receive the benefit of the additional time thus allowed. It is important that the heat be kept well sealed in the room, by seeing to it that the windows and doors are tightly shut.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Mrs. Housewife is looking for suggestions that will appeal to the pocket book as well as to the palate, and that is one good reason why the recipes that follow are sure to appeal to her. The hot fudge cup cakes are particularly delicious.

Stuffed Eggplant

One eggplant, one-quarter pound onion, one-half onion, one tablespoonful butter, one cupful bread crumbs, one tablespoonful chopped celery, pepper and salt.

Cut a medium sized eggplant in half lengthwise and parboil. Scoop out the pulp to within half an inch of the skin. Chop the pulp fine, add half its bulk of chopped onion and the same quantity of bread crumbs with chopped onion, butter, chopped celery and salt and pepper to taste.

Fill the shell with the mixture and sprinkle the top thickly with bread crumbs, lightly with salt and pepper.

and dots of butter. Bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

This is a very attractive, inexpensive dish and appetizing as well as satisfying. It may be varied in several ways. Combine grated cheese with bread crumbs before spreading over the top, or as a vegetarian dish add chopped nuts and combine with the mixture instead of ham. One-half an egg plant is sufficient for four persons.

Coffee Filters

These are excellent made of the dark bread. Cut the stale bread into rather thick slices and soak them for a few minutes in very strong coffee. Beat up the yolk of one or two eggs (according to the number of filters to be made), add a pinch of salt, a tablespoonful of sugar and two tablespoonfuls of rich milk. Brush the slices of bread with this on both sides and fry in fat.

Delicious Bread Pudding

Soak three cups of bread crumbs in one quart of hot milk to which have been added one-half teaspoonful of salt, one cup of caramel syrup and three tablespoonfuls of butter. When cool whip in two well beaten eggs and a sixteenth teaspoonful of grated nutmeg. Bake in a buttered dish set in pan of hot water. Serve cold with whipped cream.

Round Steak au Blanc

Cut round steak into pieces about half an inch square. Cover with water and cook it at a temperature just below the boiling point until it is tender, or boil for five minutes, and with still hot put it into a fireless cooker and leave it for five hours.

Thicken the gravy with flour mixed with water, allowing two level tablespoonfuls to a cup of water. Pour the meat and gravy over split halibut pieces bisected so baked that they have a large amount of crust.

Suet Dumplings

One-quarter pound of suet, chopped fine; twice the bulk of suet in flour, one-quarter teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter cupful of tea water. Chop the suet fine, measure it with a cup, and allow twice the bulk in flour; add salt; mix; moisten with the tea water, enough for a stiff batter. Roll into balls the size of a hickory nut; drop into boiling soup or gravy. Cover, and cook fifteen minutes. If in gravy, be careful that it does not scorch.

Scallop Hollandaise

One pound scallops, one cupful milk, two tablespoonfuls flour, two tablespoonfuls butter, one egg yolk, two tablespoonfuls butter, one egg yolk, one large sprig of parsley.

Wash and boil the scallops using enough water to cover. Into a double boiler blend the butter and flour. When melted (do not brown) add one cupful of milk and one of broth (the water in which the scallops have been boiled) and cook until slightly thickened. Add the scallops, which have been previously drained, and season with salt and pepper, to taste. Bring to a boil, allowing the scallops to boil in the sauce for about three minutes. Just before removing from the fire add the beaten egg yolk. This sauce may be successfully used with lobster, shrimps or crab cakes. Sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Hot Fudge Cup Cakes

One-half cupful butter, one and one-half cupfuls sugar, two eggs, one cupful milk, three cups flour, three teaspoonfuls baking powder, one teaspoonful vanilla.

Cream together the butter and sugar; add the beaten egg yolks then alternately the flour in which the baking powder has been sifted, and lastly fold in the beaten whites of the eggs. Add a teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake in a muffin tin and bake in a moderate oven.

Filling: To a cupful and a half of sugar add three teaspoonfuls of cocoa, a teaspoonful of vanilla, butter the size of an egg and a little more than half a cupful of milk and water. Roll all together for three minutes and then place in a double boiler to keep hot until ready for use.

PSYCHOLOGY AND SCIENCE

DONDERO is to psychology what Edison is to electricity. By his long and intensive research he has reduced psychology to an exact science. Psychology is an interesting subject because it deals with all problems of life.

TO KNOW THE FUTURE is, in a large measure, to master your own destiny. Those who simply drift along and wait for fate to do for them, work far more frequently, but those who see beyond today usually win. The clever financier sees the future, and plans for it. The politician likewise, and so on. If you will, just as you go to the doctor if you are ill, or lawyer if in trouble, so should you go to the psychologist who can correctly block your path. Let him study your mind, and does the physician your case. Do not imagine that one interview will cover all your life. It will, however, show you the reality of the claim.

YOU ARE THOUGHTFUL in your affairs, making marked changes or finding your undertakings go wrong, and business is a failure. Something is wrong, but what? Psychology will show you, at a glance, where the difficulty is, and just what move to make. Whether success or defeat will attend your efforts. Dondero's method is the only one that works, starting new enterprises or giving up old ones. He has no rival in this direction.

FARRAGUT SCHOOL TO HAVE PLAY GROUND

Council Provides Funds For Much Needed School Improvement--City Workmen Apply For Increase in Pay to Living Wage

The City Council at a meeting on Wednesday evening, provided for the long sought play grounds for the Farragut school, when they made an appropriation of $5,000 to secure the necessary land adjacent to the school. In the absence of Mayor Wilson, Councilman Yeaton was chosen chairman and there were present Councilmen Locke, Yeaton, Barrett, Matthews and Dunn.

Councilman Matthews offered a resolution that the Mayor be authorized to secure a suitable site for a play ground for the Farragut school at a price not to exceed $5,000 and that the money be taken from moneys not otherwise appropriated. The resolution passed without a dissenting vote and the outlook for a suitable play grounds for the children of the school looks bright. The Parent Teachers Association and the teachers of that school have conducted a campaign for several years for a suitable play ground.

Harry Rammet was granted a three month license to operate about the city.

The petition of Elias Petros Co., for permission to fill in the flats in the rear of the warehouse was referred with power to a special committee consisting of the Mayor, Councilmen Beane and Yeaton.

The petition of the residents about the Palms for the acceptance of the new street and road across the Palms and the laying of a water main on the new street, was received and three of the petitioners were present to speak to the Council. Mr. Arthur P. Cook said that there were five houses on the street and two more buildings and at the present time there was only a three-quarter inch line for all of the houses. The petition asked that the street be named Pearson street in memory of Carl Pearson, a Palms boy who lost his life in the World War. The matter was referred to the Board of Public Works to report at the next meeting of the Council.

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce petitioned the city for the erection of a public service station somewhere near the Square. Mr. H. C. Marceau of the Chamber and Secretary Baker appeared to state the great need of such a place and the matter was finally left to a special committee to meet with the Chamber of Commerce and report at the next meeting.

The ordinance for an increase in the pay of the Chief Engineer and the permanent men of the Fire Department, was given its third reading. Under the law this must pass three readings at separate meetings.

The petition of the workmen of the Board of Public Works employed in the street department, for better pay to meet the ever increasing cost of living, was referred to the Finance committee. The city workmen also the poorest pay class of men in the city at the present time.

The quarterly report of the City Marshal and the monthly report of the Auditor were received and filed.

SOLDIERS HOLD BALL AT NEWCASTLE

The second Company Coast Artillery of Portsmouth held a Thanksgiving ball at the Pythian hall on Wednesday evening and despite the weather there was a good attendance and a fine time. Mardian orchestra of this city furnished the music for dancing and it was well into the morning before the last number was rendered and the crowd left the hall well satisfied that the soldiers were good entertainers.

The officers and the ladies of the forty were the special guest.

The following were the officers of the dance:

ALIENS HAVE BEEN REPATRIATED

London, Nov. 26.—Eighty-four percent of the 21,500 civilian aliens interned in the United Kingdom at the signing of the armistice have been repatriated and sixteen percent have been recommended for exemption.

These latter for exemption are said to be men of long residence, many of them having British-born wives and children. Large numbers of these aliens had sons who served in the British army or navy.

HIGHER PAY IN ARMY AND NAVY FORECAST

Washington, Nov. 25.—Increased pay for all men in both army and navy has been agreed upon by leaders of the military and naval committees in the House. Present plans are to recommend increased schedules soon after the reconvening of the regular session on December 1. The bills will be rushed through so that the increases may be in the nature of Christmas presents.

The increases for both arms of the service will be virtually the same for the corresponding ranks. No general percentage increases are planned, but the committees expect to designate certain amounts to be added to the present pay for each grade.

To facilitate the Congressional work on the increases and to treat the army and navy the same representative Butler (Pa.) has asked the appointment of a special joint committee to consider the needs of both branches of the service. To this the members of the Military Affairs Committee have agreed, and the joint committee is expected to meet the latter part of this week to frame the increased schedules. Sentiment of both committees is unanimous for an increase of some kind, Mr. Butler says, and he is certain it will meet little objection in the House.

The House Naval Affairs Committee has made an extensive investigation of the financial status of the officers and men in the navy. Representative Kelley (Mich.) who has been conducting the investigation, believes the increases to be granted will follow closely those suggested by Secretary Daniels. These provided additional compensation of from $1,000 a year for Admirals to $200 for the lowest grade of enlisted men. The increases ranged from about 9 to 22 per cent.

Hope of increases is keeping some of the best service men from resigning, according to information the two departments have sent Mr. Kelley, but the navy is now undermanned and the additional pay is being urged as a stimulus for recruiting.

The two committees tentatively have agreed that the increases shall total about $150,000,000 a year, with about $30,000,000 for the navy and $120,000,000 for the army.

USE STRANGE METHODS OF TREATMENT

(By Associated Press.)

Niegos, Montenegro, Nov. 25.—American physicians doing relief work in Montenegro tell of some curious and strange methods of treatment employed by the inhabitants of this little mountain country. When a Montenegrin is wounded the first thought of the natives is to apply chewing tobacco, horse hair, or a fresh rabbit skin with the hair facing inside. Common ink is considered a great remedy for burns. To stop bleeding sores or wounds colwaba are used. When a person is bitten by a dog, the favorite remedy is to pull of the animal's ear and rub the wound with it.

The patron saint of Montenegro is St. Vasilisa, whose shrine is situated on the summit of a mountain between Podgoritz and Nikolski. Every year a great number of devout people come to this mountain shrine seeking cure for their ills.

But since the arrival of the American physicians the pilgrimages to the ancient shrine have not been so numerous for the natives have found that their ills can be cured much nearer home and with greater certainty at any of the numerous Red Cross dispensaries and clinics. The inhabitants come from the remotest mountain regions. They are carried in all sorts of conveyances, wheelbarrows, donkey carts, buffalo wagons or on horse back. In one case, an old woman suffering with scarlet fever, was brought to the Red Cross hospital at Niegos, which is notable of the birthplace of King Nicholas. In an iron soup pot, it required four days to get her over the many mountain ranges.

In another instance a farmer carried his typhus afflicted wife on his back a distance of 50 miles and at the end of his journey left exhausted on the steps of the Red Cross hospital. He was rewarded for his labors, however, four weeks later by the complete recovery of his wife.

In numerous instances persons suffering from total blindness have been led over tedious mountain roads to the Red Cross hospitals by sympathetic friends or sorrowing relatives, only to find that nothing can be done for them. There is a great prevalence of malaria in this country, caused by chronic malaria, and other diseases.

DINNER WAS OCCASION OF REGAL SPLENDOR

London, Nov. 27.—The state banquet given by King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham Palace in honor of the young Shah of Persia on the night of the arrival of the Eastern monarch in England was an occasion of regal splendor.

The dinner was served in the great ballroom of the "U" shaped table being set for about 120 guests. The walls were decorated with old tapestries and yemen of the guards stood at intervals about the apartment.

The Shah, wearing a diamond necklace and a diamond ring, and Queen Mary, Princess Mary and Prince Arthur of Connaught and many other notables were in the company.

Queen Mary's gown was a magnificent affair of rose pink and silver velvet, trimmed with sable. She wore a diadem of brilliants which included "The Lesser Stars of Africa" cut from the original Cullinan diamond. She also wore a Persian Order across her breast.

King George expressed pleasure at welcoming the Shah to England and said he fully appreciated the fact that Persia occupied a position of vital importance in the Middle East. A bright future should lie before her.

"You follow in the footsteps of your illustrious great-grandfather and grandmother who visited this country on more than one occasion" said the King. "We welcome your majesty's present visit here as renewed proof of the close ties of friendship which have united the two countries for more than a century. We welcome it more especially at the present moment when the relations between Persia and Great Britain have become even closer than they have ever been and when we are about to embark upon a collaboration in the field of administrative and material progress which should ensure to your country a future not unworthy of its famous past."

The Shah replied in French expressing his appreciation of the welcome extended to him. In the course of his address he referred to the League of Nations and said it would afford to his country the opportunity of cultivating more assiduously than ever the traditional friendship which united it to the British Empire.

His task he declared was a different one but he hoped that with the aid of the democracies of the west and especially that of Great Britain, "the friendly relations of which with my country date back so long, it will be fulfilled in a manner honorable to Persia."

RETURN HOME OF BODIES OF SOLDIERS ORDERED

Washington, Nov. 25.—Instructions that American soldier dead, buried in Persia, outside the so-called "zone of the armistice," be brought home as soon as arrangements are completed, have been issued by Sec. Baker. About 13,000 bodies lie outside the zone. Return of those within it depends upon action by the French Government, which has been asked to withdraw its restrictions.

Lieut. Col. Charles C. Pierce has been placed in charge of the graves registration service.

A MILLION DOLLAR GENERAL

Khar'kov, South Russia, Nov. 26.—General Andre Skourov, of General Denikin's South Russian forces opposing the Bolsheviks, is credited with the capture from the Bolsheviks of 2,000,000 rubles worth of booty. Americans here call him the "Million Dollar General." He is the idol of the Cossack country and the leader of "Skourov's Wolves," whose daring and fearless cavalry warfare has made possible many of the Volunteer Army's big advances.

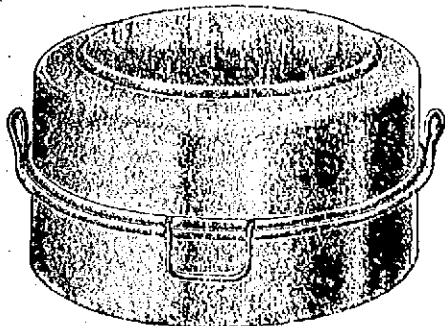

This dashing 32-year-old Cossack general, turns out his money over to his wife, a beautiful young Caucasian girl who resides here. And she in turn has offered her fortune and services to the American Red Cross. Mrs. Skourov came to the American relief headquarters shortly after the Red Cross unit arrived and was enrolled as a volunteer worker, being placed in charge of civilian relief work in charge of a district behind the Denikin army.

Her husband is one of the most powerful officers in Denikin's army. Like the famous military leaders of history he rides at the head of his troops in every battle. He has gathered about him the most adventurous spirits of the Cossack country. They live only to fight and eat—and do very little eating.

It was Skourov's cavalry that cleared the Don and Dnieper river basins of the Bolsheviks and were instrumental in the fall of Kiev. Skourov's forces are fighting for a principle—the liberty of the Caucasus—but they are not "gentleman soldiers" in the drawing room sense of the word. As troops are practically no funds to pay troops, they believe in the old war adage that "to the victor belong the spoils."

They have been a heavy drain on the Reds' treasury.
